DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This action is in response to the applicant's amendment received on 10 June 2009. Claims 1-80 remain cancelled. New claims 97-100 have been added. The amendment made to claim 81, specifically the requirement that the clip "does not form a spiral configuration," is sufficient to overcome the previous rejection. Therefore, the previous rejection has been withdrawn.

Claim Objections

Claims 81, 83, 87, and 93-100 are objected to because of the following informalities: typographical errors. The language of section (iii) of claim 81 is confusing and it is suggested this portion be amended as discussed with the applicant's representative in related Application No. 11/150,666, for example, --the first ends of the first and second arc segments project in a direction outward relative to the clip axis and the second ends of the first and second arc segments project in a direction outward relative the clip axis--. In claim 83, amend the claim to recite --configured to deploy-- instead of "so that it deploys". In claims 81, 83, and 87, replace the "side hole" with the --exit opening--. In claims 93-96, insert the term --the-- such that the amended claims read "while in the original pre-deployment state and the post-deployment state." In claims 97-100, replace "the tube exit opening" with --the exit opening--. Appropriate corrections are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 81-100 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. At the time the application was filed, the applicant disclosed the clip is shaped such that "uncontrollable spiraling" can be "avoided" thus indicating the invention contemplates some spiraling. However, the applicant failed to disclose the clip, or its first and second ends, does not form a spiral configuration as now recited in amended claim 81. In other words, the negative limitation "does not form a spiral configuration" does not have basis in the original disclosure, and thus such a limitation is considered new matter.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 81-100 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the applicant regards as the invention. Claim 81 recites "does not form a spiral configuration." It is unclear as to whether this limitation refers to the entire clip itself or just the first and second ends of the clip only. For examination purposes, the limitation is considered to refer to the entire clip. Claims 82-100 are also rendered indefinite as directly or indirectly depending from indefinite claim 81. With further respect to new claims 97-100, a single claim which claims both an apparatus (clip) and the method steps of using the apparatus (is directed out of the tube along a ramp) is indefinite under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. Language such as "configured to be" should be utilized. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 97-100 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 based on the theory that the claim is directed to neither a "process" nor a "machine," but rather embraces or overlaps two different statutory classes of invention set forth in 35 U.S.C. 101, which is drafted so as to set forth the statutory classes of invention in the alternative only (see above for details). See MPEP 2173.05(p).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 81-100 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7-13 of copending Application No. 11/150,666. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the examined application claims are anticipated by the reference claims. Accordingly, the instant application claims are not patentably distinct from the '666 application claims. Here, the more specific '666 application claims encompass the broader instant application claims. Following the rationale in In re Goodman cited in the preceding paragraph, where applicant has once been granted a patent containing a claim for the specific or narrower invention, applicant may not then obtain a second patent with a claim for the generic or broader invention without first submitting an appropriate terminal disclaimer.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
